

Reconnecting a Divided Community

Pillars Park Triangle to connect across Columbia Rd

The group's proposed intervention focuses thus on creating networks of connections that bridge the communities and localities on either side of Columbia Road. One of the sites they focus on for such a physical/social connection is the underutilized triangle along Columbia Road right under the Fairmount Line at the height of Ceylon Park – the Pillars Park Triangle as the group named the site.

Jeremy Brodeur, Estefania Ciliotta, Sylvia Zepeda